JFK’s “Camelot,” the Cuban Missile Crisis, the March on Washington, the assassination in Dallas, and the dual Brit juggernauts of James Bond and The Beatles. They were the years of bold new movements in art, photography, fashion, dance, design, and film. A moment in movie history that saw the last gasps of the Hollywood studio system, some of the best work of veteran filmmakers, and a cinema re-invigorated by a new generation.
